Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,3-5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lotti. Regarding claims 1 and 3 Lotti US 4,234,279 discloses a device for emptying containers comprising:

a tipping device for tipping at least one container from a first upright position to a second unloading position;

a conveying device (34) for receiving the container from the tipping device;

an emptying station (32) for emptying said container; said conveying means comprising a path between said tipping device and said emptying station wherein said length of the path is slightly larger than the length of said container.

Regarding claim 4 Lotti further discloses that the conveying path comprises two conveyors (34,61) arranged in an end to end fashion.

In regards to claim 5 Lotti also discloses the tipping device as having an ejection device(58) for moving said container to said conveying means at a first traveling speed.

Regarding claim 7 Lotti also disclose a feed conveyor (9) for moving the containers into said tipping device, said conveyor forming a slope relative to said first direction that is not 90°.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lotti. Lotti teaches operating the second conveying means incrementally during unloading of the container via the emptying opening. He further teaches moving the first conveyor at a first speed, such that a second tipped container will abut a first container being emptied. As the second conveyor is much shorter in length than the first it is inherent that it moves slower than the first conveyor, and that both conveyors move at the same speed when the first and second containers abut one another. Therefore It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of invention to move the containers slowly over the emptying slot and more quickly out of the tipping device in order to move containers through the device as fast as possible without damaging the contents of the containers.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon, but considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure is: Miller 1950, Stillwell et al. 1951, Criger 1955, Verrinder 1957 and Herrin 1998.
